MORGANA DAVIES

It's been a busy year for Morgana, with a lead role in the hugely popular series two of The Girlfriend Experience, a Starz Original Series, and a lead in the forthcoming re-telling of iconic feature Storm Boy, alongside Geoffrey Rush.

Morgana made her screen debut at only seven years of age opposite Charlotte Gainsbourg in the Australian/French feature film The Tree. Directed by Julie Bertuccelli, the film premiered on closing night of the Cannes Film Festival and earned Morgana rave reviews. Her performance was honoured with the Film Critics Circle Award for Best Female Actor in a Supporting Role and AFI nominations in both the categories of Best Lead Actress and Best Young Actor.

The following year, Morgana appeared in The Hunter, an adaptation of the award-winning novel by Julia Leigh. The film, starring Willem Dafoe and Sam Neill, premiered at the Toronto International Film Festival (TIFF) and saw Morgana again nominated for an AFI (AACTA), this time for Best Supporting Actress.

Other credits followed, including a lead guest role in Steven Spielberg's Terra Nova and the short film Julian, which took out the Crystal Bear for Best Short Film at the Berlin Film Festival in the Generation KPlus category.

Morgana later appeared in Return To The Devil's Playground for Foxtel (Director: Rachel Ward), and in Alice Englert's short film The Boyfriend Game, which premiered at TIFF.
