In his first television role, Autiak plays the key role of Santino Dut in SBS mini-series Sunshine, which is directed by Daina Reid (Offspring, Paper Giants, INXS Never Tear Us Apart) and follows the aspirations of a promising young basketballer who dreams of playing professionally in America.

After receiving some fantastic reviews from cast and crew on set, Autiak was cast in Stan's upcoming Romper Stomper Next Gen, in the role of Jonathon.

His other artistic talent is writing and performing rap music, which he does as much as possible in his spare time.
