AUTIAK AWETEEK

Autiak recently finished filming his first television role, in SBS mini-series Sunshine, which is directed by Daina Reid (Offspring, Paper Giants, INXS Never Tear Us Apart) and follows the aspirations of a promising young basketballer, Jacob, who dreams of playing professionally in America.

Autiak plays the key role of Santino Dut, Jacob's friend, and has received some fantastic reviews from cast and crew on set.

His other artistic talent is writing and performing rap music, which he does as much as possible in his spare time.

Autiak was born in Sudan and moved to Melbourne when he was seven.
