PIATH MATHIANG

In 2017, Piath played the key role of Aliyah Nyawan on SBS mini-series Sunshine, which was directed by Daina Reid (Offspring, Paper Giants, INXS Never Tear Us Apart) and follows the aspirations of a promising young basketballer who dreams of playing professionally in America.

Since then, Piath has worked on the ABC's Nowhere Boys series, in the role of Kirsten, and Get Krack!n (also for the ABC), in the role of Aamira.

On top of her artistic talents, Piath is currently undertaking International Studies (Political Science) at Victoria University.

Piath was born in Sudan and raised in Melbourne.
