DARIUS AMARFIO-JEFFERSON

Starring alongside Richard Roxburgh and Frances O'Connor, Darius plays Colin, a lead role, in the high-octane family feature film GO!, directed by Owen Trevor. He played Jeremiah Naufahu in the Neighbours online spin-off miniseries Neighbours: Erinsborough High, which screened on 10 Play in Australia and Channel 5 in the UK.

Darius previously played the role of Sticky in 2017's hilarious feature film The BBQ, starring Magda Szubanski and Shane Jacobson, and had a guest role on True Story with Hamish and Andy, for Channel Nine.

He is known for his role as Young Milo in Childhood's End, the Nick Hurran directed series for Syfy, and also performed in Annie (Twisted Broadway) at the State Theatre.

He has featured in TVCs for Australian Cricket and Devondale.

Darius has undertaken vocal training at Centrestage and with a number of private tutors. When he's not acting, he loves playing guitar and a wide variety of sports.
