ARI MCCARTHY

Ari recently had a guest role in US drama series Reef Break, from ABC Studios International and Touchstone Pictures. Prior to that, he played the supporting role of Jonno in ABC drama Deadlock, and was in the ABC's hilarious Back in Very Small Business, in the role of Alex Angel.

In 2017, he played the romantic lead in a music video for Josh Setterfield's Feeling Love and was the lead in an RACQ Bank TVC.

Ari gained valuable on-set experience on both Thor: Ragnarok and Aquaman, fulfilling various featured extra positions. In 2016, he played Roger in the pilot for the sci-fi television series We Were Tomorrow.

As well as completing a diploma in Screen and Media from the New York Film Academy, Ari has attended workshops by Thea Mcloud and Ben Parkinson, and undertaken basic stunt training under Phillippe Dececk. He is currently receiving training in dialects and screen performance from Peter Kent.

Ari has been involved in performance art from childhood and also excelled in sports, representing Qld and NSW as an amateur rugby league player. He trained as a boxer, making him physically skilled and confident.

Ari has firmly set his sights on building an international reputation as a screen performer.
