HAL CUMPSTON

Hal plays the recurring role of Zach Marconi in the series Nine Perfect Strangers, available to watch on Hulu and Amazon Prime.

He made his screen debut as the star, writer and co-producer of an Australian teenage romantic comedy, Bilched. Premiering at the Chelsea Film Festival in New York, Hal's project won Best Screenplay, Best Supporting Actor and the grand prix Best Feature Film.

Immediately recognisable as an extremely dedicated and unique talent, Hal's career quickly catapulted and in 2020 he was cast in the lead role of Silas Plaskett in AMC Studio's The Walking Dead: World Beyond, reprising the popular role for season 2 (released in October 2021).

In his final year of school, Hal was shortlisted for OnStage and was also (unsurprisingly) chosen as a state finalist in the highly competitive Australian Class Clowns stand up comedy competition.
